

NETHER STRAVANNAN

Isle of Bute, Scotland

Nether Stravannan is a development of two luxury self-catering lodges, a renovated former 18th century farm steading. The lodges are ideally situated on the south west of the Island, with exceptional views across Stravannan Bay to Arran.

Nether Stravannan comprises two separate buildings, North Lodge and South Lodge. Each lodge has 2 double and 2 twin bedrooms, spacious living and dining areas and fully fitted modern kitchens.

Large patio doors open directly onto the gardens.

South Lodge also benefits from a large open plan play area, situated on an upper floor.

Board games, DVDs and CDs are provided for your enjoyment.

An activity pack is also provided with details of golfing, fishing and horse riding in the local area.

The lodges are adjacent to Kingarth's Golf Club, a 9 hole links golf course, and are ideally situated near to some of the best walking and cycling routes on the island.
